VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1867. NO. 264.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

[The following remarks from the Richmond Enquirer are as applicable to certain men and to the condition of things, in North Carolina, as they are to the latitude of Virginia:]

THE CONSPIRATORS ELATED.

We understand that Botts is jubilant over the harmonizing process to which the discordant elements of Virginia radicalism were subjected the other night in a gubernatorial back-room. Black spirits and white, blue spirits and gray have mingled. Peirpoint and Hunnicutt have hugged. Botts and the negroes have kissed, and the terms of the common conspiracy against the State of Virginia have been agreed upon. And the hunt is now to be actively prosecuted.

The issue presented by these people is,—Botts, Cæsar, Peirpoint, Hunnicutt, et als vs. the State and people of Virginia. It is a conspiracy of hungry office-hunters and land-grabbers against the people of the Commonwealth, the tenure of property, and the sanctity of constitutions and laws.—They call themselves a party. In a sinister sense they are. But it needs no party to oppose them. The people of Virginia will unite to put them down without any formal programme;—the sentiment of virtuous abhorrence, and the instinct of self-defence will suffice. The contest will be waged as it has begun,—the conspirators versus the State.

In his speech on Wednesday night Senator Wilson broadly claimed that the State would be dragged down in the coming struggle, and that Botts and his scarcely less hungry followers will capture the Treasury, and riot on the spoils of the people. What the sword of the military and the interference of Freedmen's bureaus may be made to do we know not; but with the slightest pretence of fair play, the unholy condition can never rule in Virginia. It is said that the geysers, even when quiescent, may be stimulated to eruption by rolling a stone into the cavity. The furious waters at once shoot out, driving the stone before them. Botts has a similar effect on the Virginia people. Attempt to force him on them, and instantly there is an eruption which throws him high in air.

We, therefore, call on our people, and admonish them in the name of Botts to register. Let no man neglect this. Let Committees be appointed in every neighborhood of every county, to see that every Virginian is registered. Think of Botts and register! It is not necessary, as we have said, to adopt platforms and pass resolutions. We will all know how to vote for good and trustworthy men without that. Invite all colored persons to unite with us who desire to live on friendly and peaceable terms, and will be content with equal justice and kind treatment. Those who have designs on our farms, are Botts' lawful followers,—and ought to begin by taking this.

We entreat our citizens, now that the time of registering is at hand, to set on foot the necessary agencies for clean work in this matter. The conspiracy on foot against the peace, dignity and dearest interests of the State, will suffice to arouse the veriest sleeper in the land, whence once he is told of it.

GERRIT SMITH is out in a long letter, vindicating his signing of Mr. Davis's bail-bond. He discusses various themes, saying many very excellent things, and some very foolish things. The South he considers in a very low and semi-heathen state, and under everlasting obligations to the refined North for the good work wrought by the late war! We can, of course, never be sufficiently grateful for the gentle attentions and the Christian charities dispensed by Sherman's bummers, and the beauty and fertility which yet mark their track.

But leaving the stuff of this sort with which Gerrit comforts his self-complacency, he discourses more like a sensible man when he treats of the mode of wiping out the recollection of the late hostilities. He, indeed, talks about exacting and requiring this and that of the South, in the true spirit of fanatical self-conceit and lawlessness; but in other expressions we hear sentiments worthy of a wise man and a Christian. He says:

"The North must relieve the disfranchised class of the Southern whites of their political disabilities. No possible good can come from this disfranchisement, and its effect on both blacks and whites are bad, very bad. Instead of diminishing the political influence of its subjects, it does, by means of the sympathy which it begets for them, increase it. It is true that the intent of the disfranchisement was not to set the blacks above the whites, but the loyal above the disloyal. Nevertheless, it does set the blacks above the whites; and, by thus irritating the one and inflating the other, it works evil to both.—In the next place, the North must hasten to put an end to these threats of confiscation. Congress ought to say without one dissenting voice, and at the earliest day, that there should be no confiscation. The disfranchisement to which I have just referred is galling, and, as the masses beleive, insulting to its subjects. But these threats, paralyzing the industry of the South, and making even her bread uncertain, are infinitely less bearable. They are fatally in the way of her material prosperity. With the cloud they bring upon her titles she can neither sell her lands nor borrow upon them.—What could be a more trying disability to an agricultural people who are destitute of money? That strong and patriotic man, Thaddeus Stevens, would have certain losses of loyal men repaired. I would myself be glad to see a liberal per centage paid upon them. He would provide the means out of confiscation and at the expense of the nation. There are three things which, in urging confiscation, Mr. Stevens seems to forget. First, that the North, as well as the South, was guilty of the war; second, that while the North is still very rich, the South, exhausted by that war, for which the North in common with herself was responsible, is exceedingly poor; third, that confiscation, once entered upon, it will be difficult, if not impossible, to set limits to the spread of its demoralizing power. The spirit of lawless greed engendered by confiscation will no more stop at State or other lines than will the flame of a prairie-fire at the word of command.

Let there be confiscation in the South for the benefit of these, Mr. Stevens' loyal losers, and also for the benefit of the poor blacks, as he also proposes, and very soon, under its debauching influence, immense numbers at the North will be clamoring, in the name of "Agrarianism," "Equalization" and other taking names, for their neighbor's possessions. And these rich possessions, it must be remembered, will kindle the spirit of robbery, as can none of the poor possessions of the desolated South. Our government is getting in the way of buying territory.—There is a purchase it can make which would be immeasurably more important and profitable than the purchase of any territory. Let it buy the Southern heart, worth more to us than a thousand Alaskas, nay, than all Russia."

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophies, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

CHARITY.

How excellent a grace is charity or love! It thinketh no evil, vaunteth not itself, is not easily provoked, or rather, as John Wesley renders it, is not provoked at all. It rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth—beareth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. How little of this charity exists among us, and yet how much is it needed!

Perhaps in nothing do the people of the South require more of this excellent grace, than in the formation of their judgments as to the legality, propriety and utility of many of the orders of the District Commanders. There is evidently too much haste in the formation of a judgment, too little inquisition into the whys and wherefores of the various edicts which have been issued.

President Johnson did not err, when, in his elaborate, able and searching Veto Message of the Military Bill, he showed conclusively that it virtually conferred not only plenary, but supreme, powers upon the District Commanders. Charity bade him hope that extreme powers might not be exercised, and the same charity bids us still hope the same thing, and, if they are, yet to "bear all things."

In the case of Gen. Sheridan, there seems to be an expectation that the President may reverse his orders or remove him. Alas! there is too much ground to fear, that the President had better "bear all things."—His position is as humiliating as that of the people of the South. Perhaps, it is well that the law officer of the government should now give an official construction of the meaning of the law, and of the powers conferred by the law on the District Commanders. But it seems to us that duty, propriety and charity demanded that the public expectation should have been met by the President and Attorney General, in having fully explained the proper construction of the law and the powers of the Commanders, at the time they were appointed. This would have given each of them, if they did not favor the construction given, an opportunity to have declined the service.

The District Commanders are men, and we judge, when appointed, were known to be Radical in their sentiments. They were expected and required by their party to administer the law and to effect reconstruction in accordance with the Radical interpretations of that law. They are doing this thing accordingly. As to the requirements of the Constitution and the construction of the law, they were not made to understand, at first, either by the Congress or the appointing power, that these were to be their guide. They rather were made to feel that they were left to their own wills and to the teachings of the "higher law" theory.

Being men, they are necessarily dependant upon others for information. Their subordinates have a claim upon them and a prior and official claim to their ears. Here is the difficulty. Subordinates are not always wise, intelligent, prudent or conscientious, and beyond the reach of prejudice. If, therefore, the District Commanders should act contrary to the judgment of the public, or should do things which the public deprecate, or defeat the wishes of those who feel they know better and have a deeper interest in the welfare of society than those who oppose them, is it surprising?

In this District, especially, it strikes us that the Commander, leaving out of view his political predilections, has a difficult task. He talks right: Every speech he makes meets public approval. It would highly gratify us if we could say the same of all his orders. One serious difficulty lies in the fact, that the condition of North and South Carolina is not precisely similar. Their status is not the same. Their wants are not the same. Hence, while an order might work well and be needed in South Carolina, it may not suit North Carolina.—Gen. Sickles cannot be present at the same time in every place. He is neither omniscient nor ubiquitous. Had he wise, true, good, intelligent, unprejudiced agents at every point, who can doubt that his administration would be better adapted to every part? How else can we account for the strange administration at Fayetteville?—How else can we account for the appointment of a Provost Court, there, composed of three men whose powers are immense, whose intelligence, position and knowledge of the law, we learn, really incapacitate them for the duties of ordinary justices of the peace? How else can we account for other things, and for the appointment of the municipal authorities in Newbern, of whom it is said, that only one of them is directly interested in the material progress and improvement of the city?

Hence we say, charity is needed, and especially that characteristic of it, which "beareth all things, hopeth all things and endureth all things." Let the people universally, then, aid the District Commander in the preservation of order and the work of reconstruction, by preserving a calm and dignified patience and manly quiet, with proper remonstrances when necessary, and by registering as voters at the proper time, —hoping for the best!

TRUTH.—The New York Herald has the following pithy observation, which is applicable to all latitudes:

"A press which is not in harmony with the honest and intelligent sentiment of the community among which it circulates, and is not based upon a sounder foundation than foreign aid, is no better than an excrescence. It has no vitality and can exercise no substantial influence."

COMMENCEMENT AT TRINITY COLLEGE.

The Senior Editor enjoyed, last week, several days of relaxation and pleasure, as a witness of the Commencement exercises at Trinity College,—refreshed by the cheerful faces of old friends and invigorated by the healthy atmosphere of that locality.

Early on Wednesday morning, he arrived at the College and, having been comfortably provided for, he attended, upon invitation, the Trustees' meeting. The report of the Faculty was highly interesting. There had been over a hundred matriculates, and the average attendance above eighty students, for the year. Never has the morals of the institution been better—not an instance of reprimand, suspension or expulsion having occurred. The health of the College had been unsurpassed; only one instance of sickness had transpired. The religious element strongly preponderated among the students, and no year of the College had been marked by so great devotion to study and a stricter observance of law and order. The Faculty recommended the appointment of two additional Professors. The financial condition of the College had exceeded expectations, the Faculty having made the necessary sacrifices to enable its receipts to meet its expenses. The Board of Trustees subsequently elected Mr. Wm. C. Doub, A. M., Professor of Natural Sciences—a most excellent selection.

By half past 10 o'clock, the spacious College Chapel was filled by a large and appreciative audience of both sexes. Rev. Bishop Pierce, of Georgia, who had consented to deliver the annual sermon, was present. Expectation was intensely high, and fully did he meet it. The discourse was founded on the 5th., 6th. and 7th. verses of the 78th. Psalm. His theme was the imperious necessity and duty of Christian education, and its rewards. These points were elaborated with a richness of diction, a force of logic and a power of eloquence, seldom equalled. The clearness and impressiveness with which he enforced the duty to teach the word upon parents, upon educators, upon the press and pulpit, will not soon be forgotten. Education, in the ordinary sense, might be pernicious and ruinous. The Divine word, as a law and rule for individuals and nations, is the only thoroughly, truly conservative power in the world, and it must be taught thoroughly, constantly, intelligently and savingly. All should be teachers, and not simply educators, but christian educators. When he came to dwell upon the rewards or results of such teaching, it was overwhelming.—He held not only the attention, but the hearts, of his audience as by a spell, and his touching, sweet, melting exordium brought tears from all eyes, and a hearty Amen! from all hearts. It is only once in a while, that the public listens to such preaching or to such a preacher.

At half past 2 o'clock, the chapel was again filled to overflowing to hear the annual address from W. Mac. Robbins, Esq., of Salisbury. We had heard so little of Mr. Robbins, we were not prepared for such a treat. Though he has neither the voice nor graces of an orator, yet his strong thoughts, forcible reasoning and occasional bursts of impassioned sentiments, make him an agreeable and interesting speaker. His theme may be properly characterized thus: A sharp, manly review of the situation, and the duties and responsibilities upon the young men of the times, which grow out of it. It was well, forcibly and practically elaborated, forcing from the audience repeated rounds of applause. There was not a thought or word in the address, disloyal or adverse to the powers that be, yet the errors of the times were sharply and justly criticised. The humiliating processes through which the Southern people have been subjected, the losses of property, have been so prostrating to their physical and mental energies, that the orator felt our moral backbone needed strengthening or entire physical desuetude must ensue, and hence, and for this reason alone, his bracing, invigorating periods. Every one seemed to be pleased.

On Thursday, the Crowd largely increased to witness the Commencement exercises proper. The war had swept away almost entirely the Senior class. One, a year ago, appeared to take his degree; this year, the last, like "the last rose of summer," appeared, of that class, many of whose members had slept that sleep which knows no waking. Mr. Wm. Graham Woods, of Person, was the only graduate.

To fill up the exercises, the Latin Salutatory and the Greek Oration were pronounced by members of the Junior, and the orations generally by members of the Sophomore, Classes. Most of them did extremely well, greatly delighting the audience. There were by far too many speakers, which protracted the exercises about five mortal hours—too much for human nature to bear; yet the best wine being reserved for the last, held on the audience to the end.

The President, Rev. Dr. Craven, by order of the Board, then conferred the degrees.

The degree of A. B., was conferred upon William Graham Woods, of Person County, N. C.

That of A. M., upon the following graduates of the institution, in regular order:

Messrs. C. N. Allen, of Wake, E. T. Branch, of Halifax, C. C. Hines, of Georgia, J. W. Goslin, of Texas, M. C. McMakin, of Chatham, J. D. Pitts, of South Carolina, and W. W. Withers, of Stokes.

The honorary degree of D. D. was conferred upon Rev. N. H. Lee, of Kentucky, and Rev. A. R. Winfield, of Arkansas.

Bishop Pierce was then unexpectedly called upon to deliver the medals of the Societies. His impromptu speech was in his happiest vien, and almost entirely relieved the fatigue of the occasion. In the course of his remarks, the Bishop stated that he had the honor of having been the first President of the first Female College ever established in the South. He also remarked that he maintained the position, however adverse to the common sentiment, that the Southern States and people had erred in the application of their School Funds; that instead of disbursing it for the maintenance of common schools alone, the best security for the maintenance, progress and success of common schools was to multiply largely competent, thorough and home teachers, by fostering and promoting the Universities and Colleges of the States, without regard to sect or sex.

The Valedictory was then delivered by Mr. Woods, which was in excellent taste and exceedingly touching. Mr. Reid, the Chief Marshall, and his associates, displayed good judgment and activity in the preservation of entire order throughout. The Salisbury band was in attendance, and we learn that the Commencement party was largely attended by the belles and beaux, who of course enjoyed themselves prodigiously. The Senior, however, was enjoying himself better at Barbee's Hotel, at High Point, with comfortable and refreshing sleep. So ends the Commencement of 1867,—one of the richest that Trinity has enjoyed.

"UNDER DURESS."—It is well known that several of the signers of the ordinance of secession, in the Convention of 1861, are now the most ultra and vindictive of the Radical partizans in the State. They voted North Carolina out of the Union and ardently supported the war in its early stages, but now turn with a furious malice upon the people who followed them. In almost every instance, when pinned to the wall for their inconsistency and duplicity, they apologize for their support of secession by saying that they voted "under duress"—that they "could not have lived in the State" and done differently. This pretext is too bald to deceive even the most ignorant colored man or the most prejudiced Northerner. Were they compelled to be candidates for the May (1861) Convention? Could they not "have lived in North Carolina," if they had declined to become such? Were they made members of the Convention "by duress?" It was known at the time these gentry announced themselves as candidates for the May Convention, and electioneered for the position, that North Carolina would as certainly secede, when it did assemble, as that there was a sun in the heavens. They pledged themselves, voluntarily, to the people, that, in the event of their election, they would vote to take North Carolina out of the Union. And they did it—or tried to do it.

Now, forsooth, they acted under duress—their lives were in danger, if they had not voted to secede! What utterly shameless hypocrisy!

These men are particularly abusive of Gov. Worth, and denounce him as a "secessionist"; and yet not one of them dared to exhibit the moral courage which he did, in refusing to be a candidate for the Convention, because he knew that it would take the State out of the Union!

THE PATH OF DUTY.

The following remarks of the Wilmington Journal agree so fully with our views, that we take pleasure in giving them editorial form:

"It is the solemn duty of those gentlemen in the State, whom the people have long honored and whose opinions now have great weight with them, to throw aside the present reserve and silence, and give the voters of the State the benefit of their experience and wisdom. The very fact that they are not seeking office, and are not allowed even to vote, will have its proper influence. If such men will come before our people, now, when their advice and ability are more needed than ever, the effect will be wonderful in arousing them to the performance of their duty. Let the old time leaders, the men whom all North Carolinians respect and honor, speak out, and their advice will be heeded."

THE JURY SESSION.—The New York World, canvassing the probabilities of a July session of Congress, says:

"Anything is better than that the South should be deceived. If their compliance with the law of Congress in the only shape it does or can reach them, is not to insure their prompt admission, forsooth, because the shape is not what the Radicals would have it, then a July session is the only way in which the South can be informed of the full measure of Radical expectations; and unless all the registration and reorganization now proceeding is to go for nothing, and reunion is to be indefinitely postponed, the sooner a July session is openly demanded and had by the Radicals, the better."

THE HEALTH OF THE PRESIDENT.—A despatch from this point to the Northern press represents the President as ill of what is called "Bright's disease of the kidneys." As this malady is regarded by the medical profession as incurable, such a report is calculated to create serious alarm. We, therefore, deem it proper at once to pronounce it wholly untrue. The health of the President is now better than it has been for several months.—National Intelligencer, 14*th*.

There is not the slightest chance that General Butler, Thad. Stevens, Wendell Phillips, and Mr. Wade, will succeed in, what is evidently their leading purpose, fastening their doctrines of confiscation, spoilation, and re-distribution of property upon the Republican party; but they will be very likely to organize a new party based upon these purposes and principles.—New York Times.

Mr. Chuancey Burr has challenged Wendell Phillips to discuss with him the capacity of the negro for self-government. "I have," says Mr. Burr, "with great pains, and with unfaltering devotion to the cause of truth, searched over the whole globe for an instance where the emancipation of any considerable number of negro 'slaves' has not resulted in the ruin of both races."

There are one million people living in New York, with less than fifty thousand dwelling-houses for their accommodation—an average of about twenty persons in every house. The old woman who lived in a shoe was hardly more crowded.

Senator Chandler, of Michigan, has announced in a public speech that he is in favor of seizing Canada in payment of the privateer Alabama claims.

In Toledo, last week, Mrs. J. Gould left a pail of water standing by her bedside. During the night her infant child fell out of bed, and was drowned in the water before the mother awoke.

STATE ITEMS.

—— The Standard publishes a communication from Mr. Wm. A. Dunn, replying to the charge that he had been removed from the office of conductor on the North Carolina Railroad, for failing to account for money received until his attention was called to the matter. The gist of the reply is in the following words:

"I repeat that I have no recollection of receiving money from any one between Durham's and Raleigh, on the day specified, and I do not believe I did receive it, but if I did receive it, my failure to report it was an oversight. I did not believe at the time of my discharge, nor do I yet believe, that that little circumstance was the cause of my removal."

Mr. Dunn expresses the opinion, but does not assert, that the cause of his removal was his attendance on the "negro Convention" in this City, on the 27th. of March. The public can draw their own plain inferences. We have nothing to do with the matter.

The Standard thinks that we ought to publish Mr. Dunn's letter. That paper made the charge that Mr. Dunn was removed on account of his political sentiments, and yet refused to give place to the reply of Mr. Anderson, Superintendent of the Road, defending himself and the Company from the accusation!

—— The Henderson Index, giving an account of a late colored meeting, in Louisburg, at which Jos. W. Holden (white) and Jas. H. Harris (colored) were the speakers, says:

"Mr. Holden's speech was undoubtedly one of the most nonsensical, disgusting pieces of demagogism that it has ever been our misfortune to listen to. It was to a great degree incendiary, as it was calculated to inspire the negro to deeds antagonistic to the laws of our State. He cited an instance where a negro violated a duty, which every good honest citizen of any State is called upon to do. It was this: A short time since a negro had been convicted of burglary by one of our regular constituted Courts of Justice, and committed to prison. He soon managed to make his escape. As soon as it was known, a large party of whites put out in pursuit; another party of blacks were watching his movements; a little boy who happened to be near, seeing the convict, shouted "yonder he goes!" An old negro caught him and prevented him from giving the alarm. Mr. Holden says: 'There is no better man in this State than that old negro. He is a christian gentleman. He knew that that negro was being punished for violating a law he had no agency in making," that he was justifiable in secreting the convict, and, though he did not say so in so many words, yet impressed them with the idea, that they were justifiable in not obeying the laws of our State, unless they have a voice in making them!"

—— We learn, from the Wilmington Journal, that the new steam saw-mill, recently erected by the Bladen Land Company, at Bladen Station, on the Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Railroad, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday last. The mill was the most complete in the State outside of Wilmington.

—— The Goldsboro' News says that, on Tuesday night last, an attempt was made to fire that town by placing a lighted torch under the store-house of Mr. D. C. Carrington. But for the timely discovery of the flames by one of the town physicians, who happened to be passing by, a destructive conflagration would have occurred.

—— Wilmington pays a State and County tax of $44,273.21.

—— Father Ryan, the Poet of the South, is lecturing in Augusta, and is to be invited to Wilmington. We should be glad to see him up this way, also. His soul-stirring lyrics have found their way to every Southern heart, and made a home there for the gifted author.

—— Thos. J. Curtis, Esq., late Mayor of Fayetteville, who was removed by General Sickles, has written a letter relative to his displacement to a friend in Wilmington, which is published in the Dispatch. We make the following extracts:

"I will answer some of the matters indicated in your letter. I suppose you have seen the order, and the allegation on which I was removed,—"Inefficiency in the discharge of the duties of the office." It would not become me to speak of this; but I think nine-tenths of the citizens of this town think I was removed as much for murder, or arson, as for the cause alleged, and I believe none of these have ever been charged against me. You ask if measures will not be taken to restore the former state of things, and to restrain Gen. Sickles and his petty subalterns in the exercise of despotic, arbitrary and unlawful power. On that point, I suppose that as in the case of Mobile, when there was a general remonstrance by the people, a remonstrance by the Mayor and a general condemnation by the press,—if the President dare not interpose there, it is not likely he would do so here. * * * *

With regard to the situation and the remedy, I do not know that my opinion is worth the trouble of my writing it, or of yours in reading it. I will say, however, if the orders already issued are to be carried out, I see no further use for Municipal, County or State officers of any kind; and certainly for no Courts or Judicial proceedings of any kind whatever, if the Post Commanders, as in this county, are to say whether the Courts may be held or not, and to decide what cases they may try, and such as they may not; what appointments they may make and such as they shall not make. I think as all civil laws are abolished, all taxes collected to carry on State, County or Municipal laws a great imposition. The military authority, in the words of one of the general orders, have assumed the paramount and exclusive jurisdiction of all matters whatsoever. You ask will this be submitted to. I ask you have you any choice or remedy? All persons are required to obey the orders of those Military Commanders under the threat of trial, fine and imprisonment, and the Military Commissions only try you by the laws of the United States or the laws of the State where they act when these laws are not in conflict with the Military orders. Odious and monstrous as this seems to be, it is one of the General Orders for the government of the State of Virginia, and will more likely be for North Carolina.

With regard to the Post Commander here, I know little more than you do. I only know that he declares publicly in the streets and elsewhere that no Northern man can collect his debts or get justice in the courts here, and that every man that sympathized in the rebellion is disfranchised under the Military bill. Whether he will make that the law in registration or not I do not know; but there is very little encouragement to hope that a gentleman with such views will undertake to do anything to remove any difficulties in the way of reconstruction. I am glad that I can say that the Post Commander here is the only intelligent gentleman, white or colored, radical or otherwise, that I have ever heard express such opinions as to the courts in North Carolina.

You very naturally ask what is my position. Now, after being all my life an old line Whig and resolutely opposed to secession and rebellion in all its forms from the first to the last, and now to be removed from office for being a rebel, I dont know that my position is of any consequence any way; but I will answer, if I am a rebel man, I have become so since all the rabid secessionists have become the leading loyal Union men of the country and radicals of the first stamp; and since the ground on which the war was commenced and carried on the—maintenance and integrity of the Union—has been abandoned by the party; and necessarily introduced, affecting all our political and social relations, the enactment of the most odious laws intended to repress manhood and degrade the South."

—— The Asheville News says that that place has been lately visited by three different persons, representing themselves as authorized to select persons to act as Registrars in the County. One, Major Norton, said that he came from the Freedmen's Bureau department for that purpose, while another, a Lieutenant, followed two days after, representing that he had authority from Gen. Sickles to perform the same duty, and a third came soon after, saying that he alone was authorized to make the selection and those who had preceded him had no authority to act in the premises. We sincerely hope (says the News) they will reconcile the matter without a serious fuss in the family, and prevent having two boards of Registration in the county.

—— The Concord Press gives the following sad account of a case of accidental poisoning in Cabarrus:

"We learn from a friend at Pioneer Mills, that a sad case of poisoning occurred on the 17th. ult., in the lower part of this county. The facts are as follows: Two children of George Barbe, Esq., a boy aged 17 years, and a girl, 13, returning from the field where they had been at work, dug up a root called by some (as our friend says) "Rattletop"—by others "Hemlock," thinking it "Angelica," which it is said very much to resemble. They both ate of it. This was about 12 o'clock, M. On arriving at home, the young man ate a few mouthfuls of dinner—became suddenly very thirsty—took a hearty drink of water, and attempted to vomit without effect. He was immediately seized with spasms, which continued until two o'clock, when death terminated his suffering.

The girl was dispatched in haste to a neighbor's for assistance; and returning, she fell to the ground and was carried home in spasms. She succeeded in vomiting freely, and has so far recovered as to be considered out of danger."

CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE
INSURANCE COMPANY OF HARTFORD, CONN.
INCORPORATED MAY 1846,
ASSETS OVER
15.000,000,00
INCOME OVER $6.500,000,00,
The Largest Life Insurance Company in the World!
IT HAS NO STOCK CAPITAL; THE FIFTEEN Million Dollars all belong to the Policy holders, which now exceed 44,000, and not withstanding the payment of a sixty per cent dividend last year, there is now a surplus of OVER 6,000,000,00,
It has had, through its entire history, the smallest average expenses, and, therefore, it is the safest and
CHEAPEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY IN EXISTENCE.
The Ætna Life's General Agent of N. C., in last week's paper, made a statement as follows: "The ratio of the Ætna's expenses to premiums and total income is less than that of the Connecticut Mutual." He surely has not seen the State of New York's Commissioners Report, ending Dec. 31, 1866: "Ratio of expenses to premiums and interest, Connecticut Mutual 11.11, Ætna 16,60; to premiums only Connecticut Mutual 13,44, Ætna 17,59." "That Company in which the average expenses are the lowest and the rate of interest obtained on investments is the highest (other things being equal,) affords life insurance at the least cost; also the Company is the safest in which the largest number is insured."
THAT COMPANY IS THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL.
This Company gives the Policy holder a credit or forbearance of one half his premium, and in case of early death, the number of dividends will always equal the number of out-standing credits. All policies non-forfeitable by their terms, or may be made so at the option of the insured. For further information apply to,

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.
OPEN JUNE 1.
This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THROAT, BRONCHITIS, DISPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS of KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.
As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season
A VERY SUPERIOR BAND OF MUSIC,
both for the LAWN and the BALL-ROOM.
THE BILLIARD AND BOWLING SALOONS,

THE SENTINEL.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1867.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

Corn! Corn! to be had of Pulliam, Jones & Co.

MAYOR'S COURT.—We have received no report from his Honor's headquarters for several days—a sure evidence that all is quiet along the lines.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—In our notice of Mr. Starbuck's case, on yesterday, not knowing all the facts, we failed to notice the communication he made to the Court on the occasion. It is due to Mr. Starbuck to say that in his communication he stated that, if he had erred in taking the "iron clad" oath, as a U. S. officer, it was an error of the head and not of the heart; that he felt he could conscientiously take it, and, to make the matter doubly sure, he gave the facts of the case to the late Attorney General of the U. S., Mr. Speed, who said that, in his judgment, he, Mr. Starbuck, could take it.

It is singularly unfortunate, in North Carolina, that the public mind has been seriously affected towards those who have taken the oath, because of the general belief that a number of those, who have taken it, have done so improperly and unworthily. No prejudice in the public mind has affected the standing of any man, whom the public believed could take it worthily.

COL. G. G. LUKE, of Camden, has been admitted, by the Supreme Court, to practice in the County Courts of the State.

THE PROSPECT.—During the recent trip of the Senior up the country, he was pleased to hear, in every quarter, the most flattering accounts of the wheat crop. It promises to be extraordinarily large and fine,—the recent rains not having affected it at all seriously in the sections which he visited.

BEAR IN MIND that Mitchell, Allen & Co., No. 22, Pollok St., Newbern, daily make known, in the advertising columns of the Sentinel, the advantages of the "Economical and Labor-Saving Pump,"—the most useful and practical invention of the day. It is being put down in various localities, with invariable success.

CASHMERE WOOL.—Bryan Green, Esq., of this vicinity, has exhibited to us a specimen of wool, clipped from a genuine Cashmere goat of his importation. It is about eight inches in length and of a most beautiful silky appearance. Mr. Green is raising a number of goats of the cross-breed between the ordinary and the imported species.

THE NEW REPUBLICAN ORGAN.—The Union Register of Saturday announces that it has been published for the last time in Greensboro'. It is to be removed to this city at once, and will be issued under its new auspices, we presume, about the 1st of July.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—As there seems to be a probability of municipal action in regard to the Market regulations of the City and the purchasing by Grocers, I wish, with all deference to our "City Fathers," to submit a suggestion or two on the subject. In doing so, I would not favor any policy which I believed would inure to the exclusive interests of any class of persons, at the expense of the common good of our citizens. I contend that the Grocers are a convenience to our citizens generally, and that, instead of restricting them in any way, they should be allowed to purchase anywhere and at all hours.

It is well known that, owing to the great scarcity of money, persons have to purchase their family supplies in very small quantities. Especially is this the case with the large number of freedmen and women; and it is equally well known, by those in the habit of attending market, that countrymen seldom have either time, inclination or convenience for retailing such articles as they bring to market, but, on the contrary, generally prefer to close out the whole load at a reduced price, and the Grocers are thus enabled to retail the articles to the citizens as cheap, and frequently at lower rates, than the same articles are sold at retail in market. I know, from my own observation, that frequently, during the present and past years, dealers have sold chickens, butter, eggs, meal, &c., &c., cheaper than the same articles sold for by the small in market. And furthermore, it is well known that a great many mechanics and laboring men have not the opportunity to attend market, get breakfast and be at their various places of business at the required time in the morning; many of this class of persons have to make their purchases at the different groceries after the close of their daily labors; but if you prevent dealers from buying, how is this large class of persons to be supplied with their daily and weekly necessaries?

It is furthermore well known, that our market, for a great part of the time, is a poor dependence, for such as have an opportunity of daily attending it, to afford the necessary daily supplies, and, but for the Grocers, (who in one plentiful morning buy enough to retail on for a week) many would be seriously inconvenienced.

The Grocers, too, have to pay enormous rents, enormous City, State and Government taxes, and I really think it hard to single them out to be excluded from any municipal immunities that are enjoyed by others. Let us have equal rights and equal laws, and away with all class legislation, whether State, national or municipal.

CITIZEN.

[Our correspondent is entitled to a hearing. We do not altogether accord with him, however. In all communities, the public are allowed, by municipal regulations, the chance of buying at first prices; and this opportunity can best be afforded by prohibiting indiscriminate purchases, outside of the market, before a certain hour of the morning. We will do our Grocers the justice to say, nevertheless, that, as a general rule, they are disposed to sell at the least possible advance on original prices.—Sentinel.]

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS.—The Democratic State Convention of Pennsylvania, which met at Harrisburg on Tuesday and nominated Judge Sharswood as a candidate for the State Supreme Court, adopted resolutions declaring that the Union of the States is perpetual; that every State is entitled to representation in Congress; that each State has the right to prescribe the qualifications of its electors; that we oppose any amendment to the State Constitution establishing negro suffrage; that the failure of the tariff bill in the last Congress shows the infidelity of the Republican party to its professions; that the Radical majority in Congress have over thrown the Constitution and dismembered the Union by a series of usurpations, including the denial to ten States of the right of representation and treating them as conquered provinces; and that a rigid economy is necessary in public affairs.

The only speech Jefferson Davis has yet made in Canada was delivered in Niagara during the visit to that place—when he was serenaded by the band of the town and a large number of the townspeople. They were invited into Mr. Mason's house, where Mr. Davis was staying, and introduced to that gentleman, who expressed his thanks in the following brief speech:

"GENTLEMEN: I thank you sincerely for the honor you have this evening shown me; it shows that true British manhood to which misfortune is always attractive. May peace and prosperity be forever the blessing of Canada, for she has been the asylum for many of my friends, as she is an asylum for myself. I hope that Canada may forever remain a part of the British empire, and may God bless you all, and the British flag never cease to wave over you."

"I have seen a woman professing to love Christ more than the world clad in a silk dress costing $75; making up and trimming of same, $40; bonnet (or apology for one) $35; velvet mantle $150; diamond ring, $500; watch chain, pin and other trappings, $300. Total, $1,100—all hung upon frail, dying woman. I have seen her, at a meeting in behalf of homeless wanderers in New York, wipe her eyes upon an expensive embroidered handkerchief at the story of their suffering, and when the contribution-box came round, take from a well-filled portemonnaie, of costly workmanship, twenty-five cents to aid the society formed to promote their welfare. Ah, thought I, dollars or ribbons, and pennies for Christ."

The battle field of Sadowa, in Austria, is having all its trees cut down. It will be remembered that this wood was the key to the battle of Koniggartz, on the holding of which, for a long while, hung victory or defeat. It is now being stripped of its timber by Austrian wood-cutters, and this is done to destroy all traces of a locality that must forever remind them of a great national humiliation. The trunks of the trees, as they fall before the axe, are found thickly studded with bullets, and scores of relic hunters are on the ground industriously extracting them from their lodgement.

MILITARY APPOINTMENTS.—It is understood that General Pope, our Military Commander, does not consider it his duty to intervene for filling vacancies, except in such offices as are filled by popular elections. It is inferred, therefore, that he will take no action in the matter of a Judge of the Supreme Court, to supply Judge Lumpkin's vacancy, but leave the matter where it belongs under the laws of Georgia, with the State Executive.—Macon Telegraph.

Bennett, of the Herald, has long had his laugh over the folly of editors who sought notoriety in public life. He was in favor of Greeley for United States senator last winter, saying, "I want him to go to the Senate because he will make a bigger d——— fool of himself there than anywhere else." And he added, with great pleasantry, "Look at poor Raymond."

The cable announces that an expedition has left England for Africa, in search of Dr. Livingstone. Notwithstanding the many accounts of his death, the British public refuse to believe it, and this expedition has been fitted out by the government to make search, and, if not to find him, at least to find his remains. The latest accounts from Africa, it is said, have revived the hope that he is alive.

The Wheeling Register tells of a young man who, for some weeks, had been wasting away to a skeleton, owing to mysterious loss of blood. On awaking every morning, he found a fresh puncture on some part of his body, from which blood had been drawn.—He at length became convinced that a vampyre bad been sucking his blood, and removed to another boarding-house. Since the removal he is recovering his health.

Luxemburg, about which Europe has lately been in so great a turmoil, has, for one of the favorite amusements of its inhabitants, cat races. Each worthy burgher takes his cat in a bag two miles from town, and at a given a signal they all shake their bags, the cats leap out scared to death, and run home as fast as they can go. The first cat that reaches the town gate is the winner.

The neighbors of Rev. Joel Lindsey, who whipped his child to death, acquiesce in his light punishment, because he is nearly a fool and has no more babies to be cruel to.

The members of a St. Louis band were lately fined five dollars apiece for playing in the street on Sunday, but the leader escaped, because, as the astute judge ruled, his baton made no noise.

A revengeful individual swore he would have revenge on a man who had offended him. "By Jove, said he, I'll buy each of his boys a tin horn."

A smart chap in Massachusetts "shoved" a counterfeit bill upon the clergyman who married him, and afterwards stole the reverend gentleman's umbrella, and left.

Another Radical parson has come to grief. Rev. James D. Dykes, of Indiana, who during the war was active in inciting riots against Democratic newspapers, was recently convicted of horse stealing.

TELEGRAPHIC.

MEMORIAL FROM TEXAS.

WASHINGTON, June 15.

The President has received a Memorial from citizens of Texas, in regard to the restoration of Judges Bacon and Stribbling, who were reinstated by Sheridan after being deposed by the Legislature.

The memorialists say that the military commander at El Paso has disregarded the laws of Texas, and denied the County officers the right to execute the State laws. He refused to recognize officers appointed by Gov. Hamilton, and appointed Magistrates with authority to render judgments and issue executions, without allowing debtors the stay provided by law.

They also state that Judge Bacon is unfitted by lack of learning for the position. And that the property of citizens of El Paso County, Texas, has been confiscated and sold since the war under process issued by the Federal District Court of New Mexico.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, June 16.

The amount of gold in the Treasury is $103,000,000, of which sum $18,000,000 has been deposited by parties who hold certificates thereof, and $85,000,000 to the Government.

The Louisiana National Bank of New Orleans, on its voluntary application, has been discontinued as a depository of public moneys and financial agent of the United States.

It is understood in official circles that the Attorney General, in his opinion just prepared, holds that the reconstruction acts provide for two governments, military and civil, and both are to be obeyed, but to cease when the re-organization of the State governments takes place. He also takes the position that the military is only to protect all in their rights of person and property, and for the preservation of order and the suppression of violence and crime.

There is no authority in the law for the removal by the military commanders of the proper officers of the State, neither Executive or Judicial, or the appointment of their successors. The military commanders are not authorized to destroy but are bound to protect civil officers—a military commander being regarded as a conservator of the peace, and not an abrogator of the law.

A jury was obtained in the Surratt case yesterday, which will secure the trial of the accused, beginning on Monday.

An agent for the Pacific Railroad, on the California side, has arrived in Washington to obtain, through the Freedmen's Bureau, the services of from 1,000 to 1,500 colored laborers on that road. Thad Stevens has written a letter urgently recommending a July session of Congress.

ENGLISHMAN ARRESTED—GRAND CONCERT FOR THE BENEFIT OF SOUTHERN MASONS, &c.

NEW YORK, June 16.

Sir William Napier, a brother of the ex-British Minister, has been arrested here on a charge of C. R. Mendenhall, of Baltimore, of purchasing goods amounting to $3,300 and giving in payment a worthless order on an English Bank. The complaint alleged that he was about to depart for Europe, which is untrue. He denies the guilt and agreed to be examined on the 24th inst.

A grand Concert for the relief of Southern Masons will be given at the Academy of Music on the 27th. inst. James T. Brady will also deliver an address.

The Herald's London special says that Lord Stanly's action in the London Peace Conference during the Luxemburg negotiation has been sharply assailed in parliament,—the opposition asserting that in consenting to the guarantee clause he pledged England to armed intervention in the event of a war between France and Prussia.

Lord Stanly defended his course on the ground of the existence of an urgent necessity for the preservation of peace.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. HOUSE KEEPERS DEPARTMENT.

PRESERVED CURRANTS FOR TARTS.—To every pound and a quarter of red currants allow one pound of sugar. Put it into a preserving pan with as much currant juice as will dissolve it; when it boils, skim it, put in the currants and boil them till they are clear. When cold, put them away in small jars closely covered.

STRAWBERRY JELLY FOR PRESENT USE.—Dissolve a half pound of loaf sugar in a little water; boil it over a moderate fire, removing the scum as it rises; wash one pound of ripe scarlet berries, crush them with a silver spoon against the side of a bowl; stir them into the boiling syrup, with half a teaspoonful of cochineal to color it deeper; cover them until nearly cold, then add an ounce of dissolved isinglass to the jelly after it is strained through a seive, and the juice of two lemons; pour it immediately into a mould and set it on ice.—Raspberry jelly for the same, substituting a little currant juice for the lemon.

STRAWBERRY DROPS.—Add to the juice of ripe strawberries as much sifted sugar as will make it into a thin paste; drop this from a teaspoon upon writing paper, and dry the drops before the fire or in a cool oven; the next day take them off the paper and keep them in a glass jar. Raspberry drops may be made in a similar manner.

RED CURRANTS PRESERVED IN BUNCHES.—Fine large bunches of currants, fully ripe, stone them and tie six or seven bunches together with a thread or piece of split deal four inches long. Put double refined sugar, pound for pound with the currants, into the preserving kettle with a little water; boil up for a few minutes, and cover them until next day. Then take out the bunches carefully, and either candy them or put them in glasses with the syrup boiled until thick and clear, and poured while warm over them.

CANDIED FRUIT.—Take preserved fruit of any kind out of the syrup, put a layer of it in a sieve, and dip it quickly into hot water to take off the syrup, place it on a napkin to drain it dry; then sift double refined sugar over the fruit on all sides until it is quite white, and lay it on a sieve in a lightly warm oven, turning it two or three times as it dries. It must not be allowed to cool until quite dry.

NECTAR CREAM.—On four pounds of white sugar and four ounces of tartaric acid pour three quarts of boiling water; beat together the whites of four eggs and three tablespoonfuls of flour, and stir into the mixture when it is nearly cold; boil it for five minutes; do not skim it, but stir in the scum as it rises; let it cool, and add one ounce of essence of lemon before bottling it. When wanted for use stir two tablespoonfuls of the syrup in a tumbler of cold water, and add quickly half a teaspoonful of carbonate of soda.

CORN BEER.—Boil two quarts of shelled corn until soft, then pour off the water and put the corn in a stone jar or a tub, with one quart of molasses and five gallons of warm water; let it ferment for five or six days, when it is ready for bottling for immediate use; or if put in a keg and bunged tightly it will keep good for a year. There is no harvest drink cheaper or more easily made than this. Half a pound of honey will be an improvement, and a little ground allspice or ginger, or both, may be added. The same corn may be used two or three times, adding the other ingredients.

A SPLENDID DESCRIPTION.

On a certain occasion, one Paul Denton, a Methodist Preacher in Texas, advertised a Barbecue, with better liquor than is usually furnished. When the people assembled a desperado in the crowd cried out, "Mr. Paul Denton, your reverence has lied. You promised not only a good barbecue, but better liquor. Where's the liquor." "There!" answered the missionary in tones of thunder, and pointing his long bony finger at the matchless double spring, gushing up in two strong columns with a sound of joy from the bosom of the earth. "There!" he repeated, with a look terrible as lightning, while his enemy actually trembled at his feet, "there is the liquid that God, the Eternal, brews for all his children! Not in the still, over smoky fires choked with poisonous gases, and surrounded with the stench of sickening odors and corruption, doth our Father in Heaven prepare the precious essence of life, pure cold water. But in the glade and grassy dell, where the red deer wanders and the child loves to play, there God brews it; and down, low down in the deepest valleys, where the fountains murmur and the rills sing; and high up in the mountain tops where the naked granite glitters like gold in the sun, where storm clouds brood and the thunder-storms crash; and far out on the wide sea, where the hurricane howls music, and the big waves the chorus, sweeping the march of God—there he brews it, the beverage of life—health-giving water. And everywhere it is a thing of beauty, gleaming in the dewdrop, singing in summer rain, shining in the ice gems, till they seem to turn to living jewels; spreading a golden vein over the setting sun, or a white gauze around the midnight moon; sporting in the cataract; sleeping in the glazier; dancing in the hail-shower; folding its bright snow curtains softly around the wintry world; and weaving the many colored iris, that seraph's zone of the sky, whose warp is the rain drops of the earth, all checkered over with celestial flowers by the mystic hand of refraction—that blessed life-water, no poison bubbles on its brink; its foam brings not madness and murder; no blood stains its liquid glass; pale widows weep not burning tears in its depths! Speak out, my friends, would you exchange it for the demon's drink, "alcohol!"

A shout, like the roar of a tempest, answered "No!"

"Well, wasn't that a finished sermon we had this morning!" asked one person of another, as they came out of church.

"Finished," was the reply, "yes, it was finished at last, although I began to think it never would be."

A poor fellow being asked on a late trial for a certificate of his marriage, exhibited a large scar on his head, which looked as though it might have been made with a fire shovel. The evidence was satisfactory.

"I wonder," said a Scotch maiden, "what my brother John sees in the lasses that he likes sae weel. For my part I wad nae gie the company o' one lad for twenty lasses."

A poet intended to say, "See the pale martyr in a sheet of fire," instead of which the printer made him say, "see the pale martyr with his shirt on fire."

An old revolutionist says, that of all the solemn hours he ever saw, that that occupied in going home one dark night from the widow Bcu's, after being told by her daughter Sally that he "needn't come again," was the most solemn.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 32.

HEADQUARTERS, 2ND MILITARY DISTRICT,
Charleston, May 30.

General Orders No. 32.

1. Any citizen a qualified voter according to the requirements of the Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2nd, 1867, and the act supplemental thereto, passed March 23rd, 1867, is eligible to office in the Provisional government of North and South Carolina. All persons appointed to office will be required to take the oath prescribed by the act aforesaid and to file the same duly subscribed and sworn with the Post Commander.

2. All citizens assessed for taxes, and who shall have paid taxes for the current year, are qualified to serve as jurors. It shall be the duty of the proper civil officers, charged with providing lists of jurors, to proceed within their several jurisdictions, without delay, and ascertain the names of all qualified persons, and place them on the jury lists, and from such revised lists all jurors shall be hereafter summoned, and drawn in the manner required by law.

3. All citizens are eligible to follow any licensed calling, employment or avocation, subject to such impartial regulations as may be prescribed by municipal or other competent authority, not inconsistent with common rights and the Constitution and laws of the United States. The bond required as security shall not exceed the penal sum of one hundred dollars. One or more sureties being citizens and worth, in the aggregate, double the amount of the bond, over and above just debts, will be sufficient.

4. The Mayors of cities and other municipal and town officers, and all Sheriffs, Magistrates and Police officers, are required to be vigilant and efficient in maintaining order, and in the discharge of their duties. They will be expected to co-operate with the military authorities.

5. Post commanders may summon to their aid, whenever the ordinary means at their disposal shall not be sufficient to execute their orders, such of the civil officers, and as many of the citizens, within the territorial limits of the military post, as may be necessary, and the neglect or refusal of any person to aid and assist in the execution of the orders of the Commanding officer will be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by such fine and imprisonment as may be imposed by a military tribunal approved by the Commanding General.

6. No license for the sale of intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one gallon or to be drank on the premises shall be granted to any person other than an Inn-keeper. The number of such licenses shall be determined, and the fees to be charged for each license shall be prescribed and collected, by the municipal or town authorities and appropriated exclusively for the benefit of the poor. If any person shall be found drunk on the premises where liquor is sold, the license may be revoked by any magistrate. The tax imposed by the Internal Revenue laws of the United States is an additional charge and does not excuse the person from the observance of local regulations, nor exempt him from the payment of such other license fees as may be imposed by the municipal or other competent authorities.

7. All contracts hereafter made for the manufacture, sale or transportation, storage or insurance of intoxicating liquors shall within this military district be deemed and treated as against public policy, and no civil action, suit or proceedings for the enforcement of any such contract shall be entertained in any court.

8 In public conveyances on railroads, highways, streets or navigable waters, no discrimination because of color or caste shall be made, and the common rights of all citizens therein shall be recognized and respected. The violation of this regulation will be deemed a misdemeanor and render the offender liable to arrest and trial by a Military tribunal to be designated by the commanding General, besides such damages as the injured party may sue for and recover in the civil Courts.

9. The remedy by distress for rent is abolished. Where lands are leased, or let out for hire or rent, cotton, corn or other produce of the same, when severed from the land, may be impounded, but the same shall not be removed. Any cotton, corn or other produce so impounded shall be held as security for the rent or hire so claimed and may be sold in satisfaction of any judgment for the same, Provided, that any unsatisfied claim for labor bestowed upon the cultivation of such cotton, corn, or other produce, shall, in no case, be postponed to any demand for rent or hire. But to the extent of such claim for labor there shall be a lien on such cotton, corn and other produce having preference over any claim for rent or hire.

By command of
MAJ. GEN. SICKLES,
J. W. CLOUS, A. A. G.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, the Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 20, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th. section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

SEC. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

SEC. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2 1867 shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
